

Balancing individual and collective achievement to fuel a healthy academic climate.

A focus on quality makes room for diverse talents and contributions.

Diverse career paths
for academia.

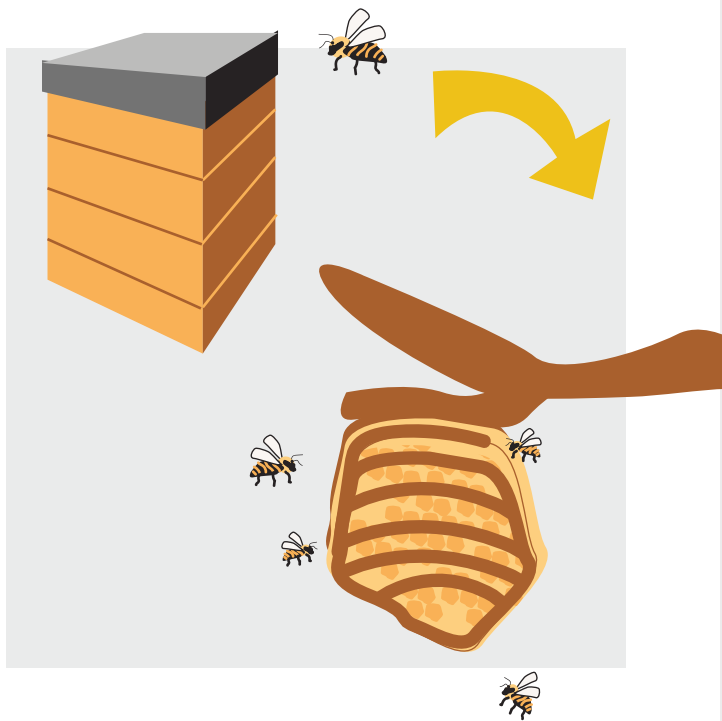

Good leadership as the essential tool for creating healthy foundations.

Open Science for trust and transparency in academia.

An international movement for cross-pollination between academics and universities.

